

Monday Memo – March 9, 2015

Presentations

- Mary Lindholm, Mary Philbin and Linda Cragin traveled to the Black Hills of South Dakota in January to deliver a faculty development workshop which focused on educational planning, giving feedback and developing action plans with our learners, and how to teach to a diverse group of learners (Inter-Professional Education) The talk was sponsored by the SD AHEC and part of the SD AFP winter conference in Deadwood SD. Whenever they left a place out there, the locals would say, “Stay out of jail ladies!” They did!!
- Sandy Blount presented a talk on February 27, "The Long Road to Optimizing Team Roles" to the Winter Retreat of the Mental Health Integration Initiative of the Center for Primary Care of Harvard Medical School
- As part of a Connecticut Department of Corrections project, Steve Martin spoke recently with inmates in Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport, and Niantic about ways to quit smoking when they leave incarceration.
- Bill Foley lectured at Lesley University in Cambridge, MA on March 6th. He presented "An Introduction to Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine" for the Holistic Approach to Health course sponsored by the psychology department.

Publications

- Suzanne Cashman is co-author with Bobby Gottlieb, internist at Brookside Park Community Health Center, on a chapter entitled, “Service-Learning with Health Professions Students.” It appears in Evidence-based Education: Promoting best practice in teaching and learning of health professional students. Eds., Brown T and Williams B. Radcliffe Publishers, UK, 2015.
- Robert Wellman is first author and Joe DiFranza a co-author of a recent publication: Wellman, R. J., Edelen, M. O., DiFranza, J. R. (2015). Item response theory analysis of the Autonomy over Tobacco Scale (AUTOS). Addictive Behaviors 45, 195-200. doi:10.1016/j.addbeh.2015.01.036
- Steve Martin is a co-author of “Changes in Smoking-Related Symptoms during Enforced Abstinence of Incarceration”, in Journal of Health Care for the Poor and Underserved, Vol 26, Number 1, February 2015