Thursday Memo – February 1, 2018

Streams of Consciousness Announcement

I want to use this week’s TMM to promote a new on-line Medical Humanities journal here at UMMS. This is very exciting.

This month's inaugural issue has submissions from members of our department including Lisa Gussak, Kathy Maier and myself. You can view these pieces and more at: https://escholarship.umassmed.edu/soc/vol1/iss1/

Here is a description of the Journal: Originally conceptualized as a UMass Medical School Capstone project, Streams of Consciousness is a collaborative project between Tom Ford (SOM ’18), William Bernard Reid-Varley (PGY-2, Psychiatry), and Colin Whitworth (PGY-2, Psychiatry) that aims to allow students in the School of Medicine, Graduate School of Nursing, and Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences, as well as residents, faculty, and other members of the UMass Medical School community to channel their experiences through works of poetry, prose, and photography. In sharing your unique perspective, we hope to help the members of our community understand and appreciate each other in ways that were previously difficult to achieve.

Streams of Consciousness is published annually through the Lamar Soutter Library website, with the first issue released in December 2017. If you have any questions about submitting to the journal, or about how you can get more involved, please reach out to the journal via email at UMassLitMag@gmail.com!