The AAFP launched a Physician Health First website with a plethora of articles, resources, videos, CME, and online assessments and tools to help you enhance well-being and sustain meaning in your work. Although much of the content is limited to AAFP members, some is open access.

The AAFP is also hosting the first-ever Family Physician Health and Well-being Conference, April 18-21, 2018, at the Naples Grande Beach Resort in Naples, FL.

https://www.aafp.org/events/fpwb-conf.html. This conference will consider well-being from the family physician ecosystem’s five points of entry:

- Health Care System – Advocating to improve regulation and documentation burdens
- Organization – Promoting leadership skills for success within organizations
- Practice – Improving efficiencies for a sustainable practice
- Individual – Developing well-being habits to address physician fatigue
- Physician Culture – Addressing the mindset of physician self-sacrifice
